

March Newsletter - Home Visiting

EHS Home-Based Programs

Happy March Everyone,

I know the weather has been very unpredictable this winter, but as we move into hopefully much calmer weather let's please remember to dress our children appropriately. Spring brings about beautiful weather, but we must remember that it changes quite a bit and our children's immune systems are trying to keep up with all the changes.

Please remember to keep all doctors' appointment so that health records are up to date and to make sure our children are healthy. Also please inform your parent educator if your child is sick so that they may make arrangement with you to reschedule your visit so that we keep everyone healthy.

Let's bring in the new season by taking your child for a walk so that they can see the changes taking place outdoors. Remember, every moment is a teaching moment and you are your child's first teacher. You can build language and cognitive development skills by talking about the changes going on outside. LET'S HAVE AN AWESOME SEASON!
